KINGSTON SHORES ARE SINKING INTO THE SEA

(Associated Press Special Cable)

LONDON, England, Jan. 17.—The Kingston police estimate the dead from the earthquake disaster at 1,200. Several hundred are injured and fully 10,000 are homeless.

There is scarcely a building in the city standing, though the greatest damage was done by the fire that followed the earthquake.

Two piers are left on the waterfront. The shores of the harbor are sinking and it is feared the city will slip into the sea. One battery at Port Royal, the old city site, has sunk. The loss is fully twenty-five millions of dollars.

EARTHQUAKES IN EUROPE

LONDON, England, Jan. 17.—Earthquake shocks were felt throughout Switzerland and Austria on Monday.

WILLS TELLS OF KINGSTON AS IT WAS IN DECEMBER

H. T. Wills of the New York Commercial, who is at present in this city collecting material for the Hawaiian edition of his paper, and who will leave for New Zealand shortly, was in Kingston, the scene of the terrible disaster on Monday, only two months ago, and when called on by a Bulletin reporter at the Moana Hotel last night, told an interesting story of the characteristics of the city and also of the experience which he had with an earthquake while there. He said:

"I was in Jamaica only two months ago and while there was awakened one morning at 5 o'clock, I think it was on November 15, by two sharp earthquake shocks. The china on the shelves all over the city was rattled round and thrown off and in some cases the people of the city were badly frightened. I was told of one judge in the courts of the islands who lived at the Jamaica Club, which occupies a building near the heart of the city. He was suddenly wakened by the shock and rushed into the street in his pajamas, greatly frightened and believing that some terrible catastrophe had occurred. "While there was no serious damage done at this time the people of the city were greatly alarmed and disturbed over the shocks. This was natural of course on account of the disasters which had visited San Francisco and Valparaiso, and also on account of the fact that the old city of Port Royal had been destroyed completely by an earthquake some two centuries before. "The city of Kingston is, in a great many respects, very much like Honolulu. I could not help noticing this today as I returned from an automobile ride to the pail. As we came to the turn on the way back, where the city and harbor is thrown before one as a panorama, I thought of how much it resembled a similar view of Kingston. "Kingston is built on a small plain with the mountains rising behind it. The verdure is almost similar, in fact if you will consult a map you will see that there is only two degrees of latitude difference between Honolulu and Kingston. As one approaches the city the scene from the sea is very beautiful, the mountains in the rear, with their masses of green, forming a magnificent background. The city is built on a level plain and is not very noticeable as one approaches. "Once again let me remark on a striking similarity. The City of Kingston is laid out very much as is Honolulu, the waterfront being along a street very similar and just above is the main street of the city, which is

SUN'S REBELLION IS SUCCESSFUL

Honolulu Reformer's Man Capture Two Towns

Considerable interest was caused in Chinatown today by the display of a bulletin outside the Hawaiian Chinese News Co., which stated that the rebellion in Southern China, in which Dr. Sun Yet Sen is a prime mover, has met with success.

It is stated that news has been received that Dr. Sun's men have captured the town of You Ying and Ching Sa, the latter the capital of the Hon Wang province, defeating a body of imperial troops. Dr. Sun is well known here. He received his education at Iolani college, and lived here for many years.

CHINESE SUBSCRIBE TO RELIEF FUND

Raise $4,000 But Quarrel About Handling Money

The Chinese in this city have subscribed to a fund for the relief of their famine-stricken countrymen in China. The amount subscribed runs up to about $4,000. Those in charge of the matter sent a cable gram to Prince Tai Young Tse, who visited Honolulu some time ago, advising him of the fact. In return the Prince cabled them, thanking them for their help.

In the meantime, as seems to be usual with funds subscribed in Chinatown, there is a row about the handling of the coin. A large number of the subscribers have a kick coming against the man who is acting as treasurer. They say that he is not a business man and declare that they will not dip up their good coin unless he furnishes a substantial bond. However, it is expected that the matter will soon be arranged, and that the money will be forwarded to the suffering Chinese in the near future.

Dr. Goodhue is treating patients at the leper settlement with eucalyptus oil, and finds it produces marked improvements. The use of it in hot baths is now substituted for the Goto treatment, which was rather expensive, and not as efficient.

The jurors in Judge De Bolt's Court have been excused until next Monday morning.

EXCURSIONISTS ARE HURRYING TO SEE FLOW

(Special Bulletin Wireles)

HILO, Hawaii, Jan. 17, 10:30 a. m.—Fifty excursionists on the steamer Kauai have returned from Kau.

They found two flows across Kahuku towards the sea and apparently from the same source.

Twenty-two excursionists walked to one flow and found it moving about thirty feet an hour and half a mile wide. The land that is being covered by the new flow is worthless.

The steamer Claudine with another excursion party will leave here on Sunday. Many will take advantage of the opportunity to view the flow.

Wm. Williamson of the Waterhouse Trust Co. received the following wireless message today from Thomas White of Kealahou, Kauai:

Come by all means. Volcano is getting stronger.

Clothes as a Help In Life

To be correctly clothed will make friends and unlock doors everywhere. The time is past when education was an all-sufficient passport and a guarantee of at least moderate prosperity.

Nowadays a man is measured by his clothes as much as by his knowledge. Society and business life demands of its members the observance of a certain code in clothes.

Good taste counts for more than money in this matter, and good taste is always assured in Correct Clothes for Men, bearing the label of ALFRED BENJAMIN & CO.
